

Mr. Joe Sass
Spectra Geospatial | A Trimble Company

- As a Field Applications Engineer for Spectra Geospatial, Joe is the liaison between product marketing, sales, and engineering.
- With over 20 years of experience in the positioning business, Joe combines his passion for the technology with a willingness to get dirty in the field working with the people that use the equipment.
- Joe has a degree in Geography that blends nicely with his love of land surveying.
- Since 2004, Joe has been his company's representative on RTCM Special Committee 104. Around 2014, Joe assumed the role of secretary for this committee.
- In 2018, RTCM was asked to establish a new Special Committee – SC135 - dealing with the radio layer of GNSS. Joe accepted the role of chairman for this committee and was named to the RTCM Board of Directors at the same time.
