

Captain Steven Ramassini

Chief, Office of Navigation Systems

United States Coast Guard

- Captain Steven E. Ramassini assumed his current duties as Chief, Office of Navigation Systems on August 8, 2022. He reports to the Director of Marine Transportation Systems on the Aids to Navigation System; creation of policy and regulations for Marine Planning, Vessel Traffic Services, Waterways Safety Assessment and Navigation Rules, and; serves as the principal advisor, technical expert and policy authority for Future of Navigation initiatives to modernize Aids to Navigation and Marine Safety Information missions.
- He most recently served as the Commanding Officer at Training Center Petaluma, California from July 2019 to June 2022. He served as the Base Commander of an 837-acre training facility, with 800,000 sq ft of training spaces, a state-of-the-art integrated shipboard simulator, and 127-family housing units; his team's primary mission was to deliver a ready workforce through training and education of eight enlisted ratings (technical skills development), graduating more than 3,500 students per year.
- Captain Ramassini began his commissioned service with a tour of duty as Deck Watch Officer and Operations Officer aboard USCGC SUNDEW (WLB 404) in Duluth, Minnesota. In addition to this tour, he has served in various afloat assignments including: Executive Officer of USCGC THUNDER BAY (WTGB 108) in Rockland, Maine; professional crew onboard USCG Barque Eagle (WIX 327) in New London, Connecticut; Executive Officer of USCGC ALDER (WLB 216) in Duluth, Minnesota, and; Commanding Officer of USCGC KUKUI (WLB 203) in Honolulu, Hawaii from May 2012 to July 2015.
- Captain Ramassini's staff assignments include: Nautical Science II Course Curriculum Manager and Lead Instructor at the United States Coast Guard Academy in New London, Connecticut; Section Chief of the Ship Control and Navigation Training Simulator (SCANTS) at the United States Coast Guard Academy in New London, Connecticut; the Design and Development Branch Chief at Force Readiness Command's Performance Technology Center located at Coast Guard Training Center Yorktown in Yorktown, Virginia, and; as the Mission Support Branch Chief in the Training Division of Force Readiness Command in Washington, D.C. from July 2015 to May 2019.
- He is a 1997 graduate of the United States Coast Guard Academy, earning a Bachelor of Science Degree in Government. He later earned a Master's Degree in Instructional and Performance Technology from Boise State University in 2008.
- Captain Ramassini's military commendations include a variety of personal, unit and service awards, as well as permanent Cutterman qualification.