

Ms. Jin Wang

Director of Technology

American Bureau of Shipping

- Jin Wang is currently the Director of Technology within the Corporate Technology Department at the American Bureau of Shipping (ABS) in Houston, Texas.
- Since joining ABS in 2010, Wang has held various roles in design and plan review, and product and service development.
- With extensive experience in marine and offshore industries, Wang's professional focus and expertise areas include: autonomous functionality, control systems, systems automation, cybersecurity, and digital enabled systems.
- Her membership on multiple teams across ABS has given her wide technical and engineering experience in each of these areas but concentrating on integration and interfaces among the technical subjects.
- Mrs. Wang received a Master of Science in Electrical Engineering from the University of Akron, Ohio.